Tropical Summer Colors...
Lush Foliage...Delicate Perfume!

Heavily budded, each of our Reblooming Daylilies is a prolific grower with sunfast blossoms that hold their color well in intense sunlight. They also produce dense masses of straplike foliage that stays attractive well into the winter months—a great way to fill gaps in your landscape or cover bare patches of ground. In fact, you will find there are few places in your garden where these daylilies can't be used to great effect.

Some of the varieties also provide an enticing, subtle perfume loved by butterflies and guests alike. Be sure to pick some for cut-flower displays indoors!

Plus a Very Special FREE GIFT!

To thank you for ordering our Reblooming Daylily Collection, we would like you to have this special free gift—a unique reblooming daylily not available anywhere else. Razzamatazz will capture your attention with profuse blooms that appear over and over again for weeks in midsummer. A golden-yellow and green throat is surrounded by lightly ruffled, rich burgundy-purple petals. This is a unique color for daylilies and a very intense display you can enjoy again and again as fresh blooms appear daily. Growing 18-24" in height, it is easy to place anywhere in your garden. Our staff think Razzamatazz is even more enchanting than its more famous cousin, Stella de Oro.

REBLOOMING DAYLILY COLLECTION

FILL YOUR SUMMER WITH ENDLESS DAYLILY BLOOMS

FROM LATE SPRING... TO FIRST FROST

The Spring Hill Reblooming Daylily Collection

Specially Bred to Rebloom!

Our Reblooming Daylilies deliver full-tilt color all the way from late spring to fall. When we saw how gorgeous these blooms were and how long the bloom cycles last, we knew our Preferred Customers would want to grow them.

Five Times the Blooms!

Most daylilies only bloom for about two to three weeks in summer. However, these special varieties begin in late spring to early summer with an initial burst of flowers, then continue to bloom in cycles well into fall—a full six to ten weeks!

Years and Years of Maintenance-Free Beauty!

Hardy, disease resistant and drought tolerant, our rebloomers are just as reliable and carefree as standard daylilies. They are guaranteed to grow in zones 3-9 with minimal care. Simply plant them in any sunny or partially sunny location. Fresh flowers appear each day and last about 24 hours, then more flowers take their place. You'll watch these amazing plants bloom and rebloom all season long. Next year, and for years to come, they will return bigger and stronger with even more spectacular flowers!

9 Different Ways to Say WOW!

Pardon Me

Winner of 4 major awards! Cranberry-red blooms with a yellow-green throat create an eye-catching display. Once established, each champion plant sports dozens of blooms on 16-18" tall stems. Spreads 12-14".

Ice Carnival

Shimmers in the sun as if dusted with diamonds! Extra-large 6" flowers sport near white, ruffled and fluted petals surrounding a lime-green throat. Grows up to 28" tall with an 18-24" spread. Lovely fragrance, too!

Gordon Biggs

A prolific, heavily budded grower that reliably delivers up to 8 weeks of flowers! 4" flowers are raspberry red with bright red eye zone and medium-green throat. Grows up to 26" tall with an 18-24" spread.

Stella de Oro

A perennial favorite for strong color, this Stout Medal Award winner flourishes in just about any condition. The pure golden-yellow blooms are the color of the sun and appear atop 18-24" stems starting in late spring. Spreads 12-18".
